

ATTACKED OUTPOST DURING THE NIGHT

TWO AMERICANS KILLED AND TWO WOUNDED.

Aguinaldo Continues to Treat With Severity the Insurgents Who Want to Surrender.—Execution of Six Insurgent Officers Who Expressed Desire to Treat With Americans.

Manila, April 13.—[Special].—The Filipinos attacked the outpost of the Third Artillery at Malolos during the night and two Americans were killed and two wounded in the engagement. Aguinaldo continues to treat with severity the insurgents who want to surrender.

Filipino prisoners report the execution of six insurgent officers who expressed a desire to treat with the Americans.

Manila, April 13.—Gen. Wheaton's brigade, which had been concentrating at Bocaue, started east early Wednesday morning.

The Filipinos were driven beyond Santa Maria, which town the Americans captured in the course of their advance.

The enemy made a charge upon the American front with a galling gun, but were utterly routed.

The rebels lost 100 men in killed and wounded.

Santa Maria del Pandi is on the Santa Maria river, eight miles from Bulacan, and has a population of 10,500.

Otis Reports Victories.

Washington, April 13.—Gen. Otis, under date of Manila, April 12, cables the following to the state department: "Yesterday in the lake region Lawton pursued the insurgents eastward from Santa Cruz, dispersing them; captured all the larger vessels used in the lake trade and a Spanish gunboat. He is now endeavoring to pass these vessels from the river, where they were concealed, into the lake."

"Wheaton drove the enemy ten miles to eastward of railway lines of communication with Malolos."

"Lawton's and Wheaton's casualties are few and slight, as the enemy made no stand."

"Notified by Spain that she will evacuate Mindoro and Polo soon."

The noteworthy fact in regard to this latest dispatch from Gen. Otis, as it is regarded by the officers of the war department, is the apparently sweeping character of the operations personally conducted by Gens. Lawton and Wheaton.

No report of a single day's operations in Luzon heretofore received has indicated any such distance accomplished by any one of the so-called flying columns of MacArthur or Wheaton as was accomplished Tuesday, when the enemy was driven ten miles east from the railway line from Manila to Malolos.

Tuesday's work is taken as an indication that the re-enforcements carried to the Philippines added just the element of strength to the force already operating there that was needed in order to carry out the plan of campaign thoroughly and effectively, as devised by Gen. Otis.

Insurgent Army Scattered.

Gen. MacArthur has for some time been contemplating a movement against the insurgents of Calumpit, and it is the presumption of the war department officers that he has carried out this intention, and that the United States forces are now in a position to break up the insurgent army into small detachments, and prevent them from getting together again as an army.

Aguinaldo has apparently "taken to the woods," and will probably be unable to concentrate his forces again.

DESPERATE EFFORT TO DELAY ORTON BILL

STATE TAX COMMISSION BILL ORDER FOR TONIGHT.

Effort in Assembly to Delay Bill Taxing Railroads Until Final Adjournment.—Bill Reconsidered.—Amendment Adopted to Anti-Pass Bill Reducing Penalty for Violation.

Madison, April 13.—[Special].—A desperate effort was made in the assembly to delay the passage of the Orton bill, taxing railroads, until final adjournment and thus defeat it. The move was successful as far as having the bill reconsidered and made a special order for tonight by a vote of 50 to 39.

The board of immigration bill passed in the assembly.

The anti-pass measure called out much discussion in the assembly. An amendment was adopted reducing the penalty for violation of the act, changing imprisonment to the county jail and fixing the maximum penalty at $500. The amendment to exempt the railroad commissioner and deputy from operation of the law was lost. The bill then went to a third reading with a clause attached including political committees.

The senate had a lengthy discussion over Hall's amendment adding $35,000 to the university appropriation for an electric light plant to light in historical library, capitol and the university buildings. It was laid over until tomorrow.

The child labor bill went to third reading in the senate.

When the bill providing for state tax commission came up, McGillivray offered an amendment making the term two years instead of ten. Whitehead said it would be better not to pass the bill than to adopt this amendment. It was made a special order for this evening.

Madison, Wis., April 13.—"Anti-pass" scored another victory against the railroads Wednesday. After a lengthy debate the assembly ordered to third reading the Orton bill increasing the taxes on railroads about $393,000 annually. This estimate is based on last year's taxes, which amounted to $1,250,000. Mr. Hall had introduced amendments considerably increasing the sum, which were defeated, but led Mr. Orton to increase his own provisions. A motion to pass the bill under suspension of the rules failed. The bill fixes a rate of 5 per cent on the gross earnings over $5,000 a mile, 4 1/2 per cent on earnings of between $4,000 and $5,000, 4 per cent on earnings between $3,000 and $4,000, and 3 1/2 per cent on earnings between $2,500 and $3,000.

The senate without debate killed the Wheeler bill licensing barbers. The blanket fish and game bill was favorably reported. It provides that resident hunters must pay a license of $1 and non-resident hunters a license of $10 for shooting game birds of all kinds. Non-residents must pay $25 for shooting deer. No game can be shipped out of the state unless accompanied by the man who shot it. The provisions as to the closed season are the same as in the present law.

Cornet on the Heavenly Kingdom.

Francis Nichols of Minnesota, who has organized a religious sect called the Brethren in Christ, says that all the human race, except the 140,000 in his sect, will be eternally lost. The property of the communicants is placed in a common fund, of which Nichols has charge. All funerals of members of the sect must be under his direction, and his traveling expenses are, of course, borne by the mourners. Those who desire to keep "in the kingdom" must abjure all display in dress and all ornaments are forbidden. The members must not have any friends who are not in the kingdom, and this rule is said to be one of the most severe of all on the women. No tie of relationship is recognized, and persons in one's own family must be shunned if they are outside the kingdom.

Naturally Disturbed.

"There they go! There they go!" he cried throwing down his newspaper. "What's the matter now?" some one asked.

"Why, here's a Chicago doctor who has an invention which shows when a child is overworked."

"But you're not a child."

"Of course not, but can't you see that it's only a question of time when civil service commissions will succeed in working some such scheme as that into the public service, and then a man might just as well be tied up with a private corporation. I might just as well resign my job with the county."

Saved.

"For heaven's sake, Archibald," gasped the fleeing heroine, "look behind and see if any of father's men have caught sight of us!"

Archibald looked in the direction indicated.

"No, Philomela," he responded, soothingly, "I am confident that we are safe from the view of the men, because of the ladies' hats."

Then with a burst of mocking laughter he disappeared behind the scenes.—Chicago Tribune.

Read's Opinion of It.

At a dinner party at which Speaker Reed and Ambassador Choate were present, the latter spoke of his share in drawing up the new constitution of New York. He said that it was a noble document, and in no part was he so much interested as in that which prohibited the members of the New York assembly from accepting passes from railroads. In conclusion he said: "I am happy to say that never in my life did I ride on a railroad pass." One of the members of the dinner party looked at Choate with hearty admiration and said: "Well, I wish I could say that." Speaker Reed looked at the speaker in a whimsical way for a moment, and then said: "Well, why don't you? Choate did."

Shrapnel Sensations.

One of the most embarrassing things connected with a modern battlefield is the shrapnel shells. There is not so much danger in their fire as in that of modern musketry, but the sound of the shrapnel is much more disconcerting and demoralizing. Its wild "wheew-wew-wew" suggests missiles filling all the air and coming from all directions. A surgeon relates that, as he was standing in front of a hospital tent near where two wounded colored troopers were lying, he heard one of them say, as a shrapnel wound past: "I don't care for dem Mauser bullets, for when you hear one of 'em, you know it's done gone past. But I sho'ly would like to know where de cannon is dat shoots dem camp kittles full o' rocks!"

Beef Fat for Cooking.

Economy can be promoted greatly by using beef fat for cooking. It is a clean, wholesome fat and healthier than lard. It can be substituted for butter in making gingerbread, snaps, spiced cakes and in all plain cakes it can replace half the butter. Beef fat makes a good shortening for the crust of meat pies, but cannot be used for puff paste. When deep fat is desired, it should be mixed with the lard. Try it out without burning, then strain it and keep in a cool place. Cream it with sugar or rub it into flour exactly as if it were butter.

Do Song Birds Predict Storms?

A writer in the Monthly Weather Review avers that for a considerable time in advance of a great storm song birds cease their music, and that this may be taken as an indication of the storm's approach. For forty-eight hours before the beginning of a series of severe storms in northern Illinois last summer not a sound was heard from the throats of the thousands of birds which inhabit that part of the country, and whose music in fair weather is one of the charms of the district.

Kipling Accused of Plagiarism.

The Bookman, of New York, says: An interesting parallel between the well known "Explanation" of Rudyard Kipling, and a "Fable" not so well known, written in 1834 by one Richard Flecknoe, has been pointed out to us by a correspondent. It is his opinion that the old poet surpasses the modern, and he suggests that another "explanation" is due from Mr. Kipling.

Thick Lips and Thin Lips.

The old popular notion that thin and delicately formed lips indicate more spirituality and elevation of character than do thick, coarse lips is controverted in the Paris Bulletin of Anthropology by Dr. A. Bloch, who says he has made a thorough study of the subject of lips from a scientific standpoint. The popular impression, he avers, is based on imagination, and the differences in human lips depend on race distinctions, as do the differences in the size and shape of noses.

A King's Practical Charity.

King Oscar of Sweden and Norway, always ready with his purse in the promotion of scientific research, appears to have rendered a great service to mankind by having, at his own expense, caused a deaf and dumb man to be trained under a certain system of massage of throat, ears, etc., advocated by a great Swedish surgeon, with the result that the lucky patient has begun to speak and can hear.

Within the past thirty-five years it is estimated that 11,000,000,000 feet, board measure, of timber on public land have been destroyed by forest fire.

JANESVILLE MAN INJURED

A. K. Wheeler Sprained and Splintered Bone of Left Ankle

A. K. Wheeler of this city, who is attending the state university, badly sprained and partially splintered the bone of his left ankle today. He was training for the university track team at Camp Randall. While in the act of throwing the discus, his foot became imbedded in the cinders of the track and the entire momentum he had acquired came on his ankle, causing the accident.

Mr. Wheeler is an athlete of wide reputation and is one of the most promising candidates for the varsity track team. Last fall, Mr. Wheeler won more points than any other contestant at the Freshman-Sophomore Field Day. It is thought that Mr. Wheeler will be able to return to track work in a few weeks. Though the accident is not serious, still he will probably be handicapped all spring.

It requires a smaller quantity of "T. & T." brand coffee per meal than any other kind, because it retains all its natural strength.

WHITEHEAD BEFORE JOINT CLAIMS COM.

CREATION OF PERMANENT STATE TAX COMMISSION.

The Senator Says There is a Need For a Careful Study of the Taxation By Trained Men—Present System of Tax Laws Adopted When State Was Young.

Senator Whitehead, of this city, chairman of the senate committee on assessment and collection of taxes, appeared before the joint claims committee yesterday afternoon at Madison to argue for the bill introduced in the senate by his committee for the creation of a permanent state tax commission. He said that there was need for a careful study of the taxation question by trained men with ample time at their disposal. This could only be done by state officials backed in their efforts to secure information by the state. The present system of tax laws was adopted when the state was young, and was adapted to the then existing conditions, but with passage of years and the development of great corporations, conditions had greatly changed, and changes, wide-spread and carefully planned were necessary in the tax laws of the state. The best of laws, Senator Whitehead said, will not carry themselves into effect. Proper machinery is necessary to enforce them, and this commission would accomplish that. He asked the committee to report the bill to the senate without recommendation. The committee so reported it last night, and it was on the calendar for action today.

Suppress Alumined Food.

The doctors inform us that alum is a poison, and that alum baking powders should be avoided because they make the food unwholesome. Prominent hygienists, who have given the matter most study, regard these powders as an evil that should be suppressed by state action. In Minnesota and Wisconsin alum powders are not permitted to be sold unless they are branded to warn consumers of their true character, while in the District of Columbia the authorities have under the direction of congress adopted regulations to prohibit the use of alum in bread altogether.

Are not the people of other states, as well as those of Minnesota and Wisconsin, entitled to warning of a danger which is apparently menacing them at close hand, and is not the whole country entitled to absolute protection, as the people of the District of Columbia are protected, by legislation which is entirely prohibitive?

Until we can have protection in the form of a statute, how can our state boards of health, state analysts or food commissions better serve the public than by publishing in the newspapers from time to time the names of the baking powders which they find to be made from alum?

Meantime, it will aid the housewife in designating the alum powders to remember that all powders sold at 25 cents or less per pound are of this dangerous class. Pure cream of tartar powders are usually sold at from 45 to 50 cents a pound.

SCHALLER-RANOUS NUPTIALS.

Performed Last Evening By the Rev. Marjory of Trinity Church.

At 7:30 o'clock last evening, at the Linn street home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark E. Ranous, was performed the ceremony that united as husband and wife Miss Helen E. Ranous and Charles H. Schaller, both of this city.

The happy couple were unattended and before a beautiful bower of roses, ferns and potted plants, the Rev. F. L. Marjory spoke the magic words.

Relatives and friends to the number of forty then extended hearty congratulations and best wishes, after which tempting refreshments were in order at small tables, presided over by Mrs. Louise Bowman as caterer. Prof. Spiggett's Italian string orchestra was in attendance and played throughout the serving of refreshments.

Both bride and groom need no introduction, as they have resided in the Bower City since childhood.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark E. Ranous and is a woman admired by all who have formed her acquaintance. She is a graduate of the high school class of '92.

The groom is interested in the Janesville Steam laundry and is the kind of a young man whom one admires, when an upright character and good business methods are taken into consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaller left on the 9:30 train for the north and on their return will go to housekeeping on South Main street.

Among the guests present from out of the city were:

Mr. and Mrs. William Schaller of Milwaukee; Mrs. John Koerner of Wauwatosa; Miss Carolyn Ranous, of Berlin, Wis.; Miss Frances Underhill, of Green Bay; Mrs. A. O. Bearup and Miss Marion Bearup, of Evanston; Mrs. J. J. Moulding and Miss Josephine Moulding, of Chicago; Frank Ranous, of Fond du Lac.

"Things Ill Gotten Are Ill Spent."

This is true of the man whose physical condition has forced him to call upon his nerves to make good the depletion of the rest of his system. The overdrawn business man is overdrawn because he lacks proper capital. The capital of the physical man is pure, wholesome, life-giving blood.

Make this capital for yourself and do not overdraw. The best blood-giving banker is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It lends and gives interest, too. You cannot beat that. If your physical bank account is low, see what this banker will do for you. It never disappoints.

Ulcer—That other sufferer might benefit from my horrible experience of 18 months with nine good sized ulcers below the knee. Doctors frankly said "incurable," but I would not give up. Took Hood's Sarsaparilla for nearly a year and was thoroughly cured. It is now 1 1/2 years since and I am well and hearty." Mrs. ELLEN LLOYD, Box 4, Plains, Pa.

The above is condensed from a grateful 1500 word letter.

Headaches and Vomiting—"I had headaches and vomiting spells and was very low. I would not be living today but Hood's Sarsaparilla brought health back and I am now well." Mrs. ALONZO NOYES, Chelsea, Vt.

Catarrh—"Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my dry nasal catarrh and stopped the disagreeable dripping in my throat. Nothing else even helped me." W. W. KELLY, Engineer, 514 Moody St., Lowell, Mass.

Scrofula—"From a babe to 21 I was afflicted with scrofula. It disappeared but at 37 it came on again, nearly a dozen tumors forming on neck in two years. Doctors gave me up but Hood's Sarsaparilla in three months made me in perfect health." GEORGE A. ZIRKLE, School Teacher, Mount Horeb, E. Tenn.

A great many bath tubs in this city were put in years ago. Likewise water closets. They are foul, ill-smelling and unwholesome and a menace to health. Bath tubs were boxed in and pipes out of sight, often leaking gas and accumulating dirt. You should throw these out and put in a bright porcelain tub and a syphon water closet with exposed nickel water pipes. You will take more comfort than you can imagine. The price for this kind of this kind of work has got down to reasonable figures now. If you think of doing anything to your bath room. We will be glad to give you an estimate of the cost and other information and help which our experience would suggest.

TO DELIVER MUSTER ROLLS.

Cuban Assembly Will Yield to Gen. Brooke's Demands.

SOLDIERS SOON TO BE PAID.

Gen. Gomez Has Called a Council of Insurgent Leaders—Officers of the Army Unwilling to Be Overlooked in the Distribution of Relief Money.

Havana, April 13.—At last the muster-rolls of the Cuban army seem in a fair way to be surrendered to Gen. Brooke. Gen. Gomez has called a council of the insurgent generals at Quinta de los Molinos for the purpose of considering the best way of co-operating with the American authorities for the payment of the troops, and it is thought that one result of the meeting will be the delivery of the fugitive lists to Gen. Ernst, who has waited more than six weeks for a chance to copy them.

All the insurgent chiefs, whether partisans of Gomez or followers of the assembly, have been invited to attend, and Gen. Portuondo, in whose custody the rolls are supposed to be, has declared that he will be present with the rest.

Among other things the council will consider the petition of a number of captains and lieutenants in Santa Clara province who plead poverty as great as that of the privates of their commands. They beg to be treated as enlisted men in the distribution of the $3,000,000. The request raises a point which, if it be decided affirmatively, will greatly increase the number of men to be paid, as nearly all of the line officers are able to qualify as "needy."

The generals are disposed to favor the extension of the list, and the council is likely to make some such recommendation.

Gens. Brooke and Ernst, who have charge of the distribution, estimate that three weeks will be necessary for the preparation of the rolls for payment.

EVERYTHING QUIET AT PANAMA.

Many Victims of the Riot Are Taken to Their Last Resting Place.

Panama, Ill., April 13.—The city presents more of a military camp than at any time since the soldiers first made their appearance here a few months ago. Everything outwardly is quiet, and no demonstrations of any kind are expected. The miners are idle again, and no effort was made to work them.

The double funeral of Xavier Lecocq and Leo, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duddy, victims of Monday's riot, took place at St. Patrick's church Wednesday. The union miners attended the funeral in a body.

The funeral of Frank Coburn occurred from the First Methodist Episcopal church at 2 o'clock.

Five of the negroes who lost their lives Monday were buried.

Coroner Bradley and jury are still in session, hearing evidence as to the death of Xavier Lecocq. The inquiry as to the causes of death of the several victims will probably take all the balance of the week.

CLOSE BEEF INQUIRY SOON.

Within a Week All of the Evidence Will Be Concluded.

Washington, April 13.—Gens. Adna R. Chaffee and A. R. Arnold, Dr. Huldekoper and Capt. Williams of the commissary department were before the Wade court of inquiry Wednesday. Gen. Chaffee said that while he considered the refrigerator beef supplied to the army at Santiago wholesome, the officers and men of his command refused generally to eat it. He attributed this largely to the fact that most of them were sick. Dr. Huldekoper said the canned beef was generally of poor quality. Capt. Williams told of the condemnation of the beef on board the transport Panama. Gen. Arnold's testimony dealt with the beef supplied at Jacksonville, which was, he said, generally wholesome.

Members of the court express confidence of being able to conclude the taking of testimony by the early part of next week. There will not be much delay after that in the presentation of the report.

Arrests Wait on the Clerks.

Indianapolis, April 13.—There have been no arrests made under the Hancock county indictments, and it may be several days before the names of any more of the defendants are announced. The court gave orders that arrests should not be made until the indictments were spread on the records, and as there are 991 of these, it will be some time before the work can be completed.

Million for New School.

New York, April 13.—Under the will of Wallace C. Andrews, who with his wife died in the fire that destroyed their home in this city last Friday morning, a sum estimated at $1,000,000 is made immediately available for founding a school for girls at Willoughby, Lake county, Ohio, on the Williams farm.

Bill Prohibits Prize Fights.

Lansing, Mich., April 13.—The senate passed the bill prohibiting prize-fights under the name of boxing-matches, after a large number of counties had been exempted from the provisions of the measure.

Gen. Grant Goes to Manila.

Washington, April 13.—Gen. Fred D. Grant has been ordered from Porto Rico to the Philippines. It is possible that Gen. Wheeler will also be ordered to the Philippines.

Chicago Live Stock Market.

Chicago, April 12.—There was weakness in both cattle and hog trade today, many plain and fairly good steers selling off 10c, and all hogs a big 5c below prices paid for such the day before. Sheep trade was quite brisk, at prices up to the best of the week. Today's receipts were estimated at 13,000 cattle, 28,000 hogs and 16,000 sheep. Demand for beef cattle was weak all along the line, the heavy purchases of Monday having filled the trade well, and many useful cattle were still dragging at a late hour, not much wanted at the reduced prices quoted. Offerings in other branches were quite closely brought up, the late hog market having rather better tone than earlier in the day.

John Wanted That Money.

Not long ago a Pittsburg life insurance agent persuaded a Chinaman to take out a policy of $5,000. The latter had no clear idea of the transaction, but understood that on paying the premiums promptly he would be entitled to $5,000 some time. He began bothering the agent for the money after a couple of weeks had passed, and the agent tried to explain to him that he would have to die before he could get it. The Chinaman fell down a cellarway in Grant street, and was badly hurt. His friends tried to attend to him without calling in a doctor. When they did call one in two days later, the doctor was angry. "Why didn't you call me sooner?" he asked. "This man is half dead now." Next day the injured man's brother was at the insurance office with a claim for $2,500. "You're not entitled to anything on this," said the insurance agent, "until the man is dead." "Doctor said him half dead, why he no get lat half?"

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

Which Is Better, Try An Experiment Or Profit by a Janesville Citizen's Advice?

Something new is an experiment. Must be proven to be as represented. Be successful at home or you doubt it.

The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit. But the endorsement of a friend is. Now, supposing you had a bad back, a lame weak or aching one. Would you experiment on it? You will hear of many so-called cures.

But they come from far away places. Its different when the endorsement comes from home.

Easy to prove that it is so. Home endorsement is the proof that backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Read this case: Mr. Samuel Griffin, of 203 Locust St., journeyman carpenter, says: "I had a severe attack of la grippe some time ago, and as the result of this sickness a weakness of the kidneys set in. The secretions from those organs were greatly disordered, and annoying me much at night and I seemed to have limited control of them. After finishing the treatment my kidneys were so strengthened that I could sleep all night without being disturbed. I am better now than I have been for years, and give all credit to Doan's Kidney Pills for bringing about this result."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 60 cents. Mailed by Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

- 1777—Henry Clay, statesman, called the "Great Pacificator," born in Hanover, Va.; died 1852.
- 1850—Rev. Dr. Adoniram Judson, missionary to Burma, died at sea; born in Malden, Mass. 1783. After graduating at Brown university Judson became a skeptic. He afterward changed his views and entered Andover Theological seminary, turning his attention to the subject of foreign missions. He volunteered to go to India and on the voyage became a convert to Christianity by immersion. This cut him off from the society which had sent him abroad. After some difficulty he went into Burma and mastered the language. He preached and issued tracts, and, although often interfered with by native powers and once imprisoned for over a year, he made over 20,000 converts. The Bible was translated into Burmese by him.
- 1861—The first shot at Sumter; beginning of the civil war.
- 1878—William M. Tweed, the noted Tammany "boss" of the early seventies, died in New York city.
- 1879—General Richard Taylor, only son of General Zachary Taylor and a noted Confederate leader in the southwest, died; born 1824.

COST OF AN OHIO CORN CROP.

Two years ago when Orange Judd Farmer published the results of records kept on 2,632 acres of corn, showing that the average cash expenditure in its production, including taxes, all labor actually given the crop, board of labor and team maintenance, but not including rest or interest, was 6 cents per bushel, criticism of the conclusion was especially severe in an Ohio farm paper. The following data for the crop of 1898, furnished by Mr. Frank Ruhlen, now assistant in agriculture at the Ohio State University, for a crop which he personally made, the crop being grown on private land before Mr. Ruhlen became connected with the university, will be interesting to those who insisted that our conclusion was radically wrong.

Location, Union county, Ohio. In the field eighteen acres of bottom land, black loam soil, worth $60 per acre. The price paid for labor was $2 per day, man and team, board and feed furnished by the grower, and $1 per day in cutting, horse furnished by grower.

Value of fodder	20.70

Net cost, $86.17.

The field produced 1138.5 bushels, and the net cost per acre was $4.78, or 7.6c per bushel. This is very close to the result which our own tabulation of two years ago gave for Ohio, and in addition it will be noted that the labor was hired by the most expensive method, man and team per day. Mr. Ruhlen furnished the implements used, and allowing $1 for the cost of the implements and a depreciation of 12 1/2 per cent, per annum for wear and tear, his net cash outlay would be at the rate of 8.7c per bushel. The rate of yield of sixty-three and one quarter bushels per acre. This is about double the average rate for the state, so it will further appear that these results are in line with our final statement that corn could not be grown to sell at less than about 18 cents without loss—Orange Judd Farmer.

A New York engineering firm claims to have made sales in Cuba, through their agent in Havana, of eighteen complete upright boilers and engines for agriculture work. The various outfits range in size from five to twenty-five horse power. Advises to the above firm say that at an early date saw mills of the smaller type will be in demand from various parts of the island.

A Social Economist.

"Do you mean to tell me that man wrote a whole book on how to relieve the necessities of the poor?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, it does seem strange! The idea of taking up a whole book to find out that the only reliable way under present conditions is to go down into your pocket and take out a few dollars—what? Didn't say anything about that method? Well, I declare!"

AMERICAN SEAMAN A SLAVE.

So Declares a Writer in a Magazine, and Tells Why.

The personal treatment accorded the seaman by the American ships' officers is the most oppressive, because the most acute, feature of his life. Extreme brutality is the rule, almost without exception. It is a standing charge against our maritime law that it requires no qualification other than that of citizenship on the part of sailing ship officers. In this respect the United States stands alone among maritime nations of any consequence. The result is that the men in authority on board American ships are chosen for their ability to "drive," i. e., to beat, the men under them, rather than for their ability as seamen and navigators. The reputation thus attained finds its sequence in an esprit de corps leading to the commission of the most wanton brutalities conceivable by minds trained to ingenious methods of inflicting torture upon their subordinates, and, under the fear of consequences, social or legal, declares a writer in the February Forum. The frequent recurrence of seamen's charges against ship's officers, and the monotonous regularity with which these charges are dismissed by the courts, has created a feeling of indifference, and even skepticism, on the part of the public. The charges made by the seamen appear incredible when judged by the standard of conduct prevailing on land. But it must be remembered that the standard prevailing at sea is one of practical slavery, in which a Legree is an actual personification. An investigation shows that during the past eleven years more than 100 ships' crews have brought charges against their officers in ports of the United States alone. This list includes only those cases that have come most prominently before the public. Characteristic features of this record are: Fifteen deaths resulted from the treatment received; many cases resulted in the loss of limbs, eyes, or teeth, and in other injuries of a permanent character, including insanity; several suicides are attributed to persecution; only seven convictions were obtained, and, with one exception, the penalties inflicted were merely nominal; the names of certain ships and their officers recur frequently in the list. At the present moment an American boy named Amos Stone, a native of Boston, and the son of respectable parents, is an inmate of a lunatic asylum at Seattle, Wash., as the result of treatment received at the hands of the officers of an American ship. Another boy, Ephraim W. Clark, has been confined in Thomaston (Maine) penitentiary for more than twenty-three years for mutiny under circumstances of the most extreme provocation. Such cases contain a sufficient explanation of the native American's aversion to the sea.

Oldest Paper Published.

The North American, published in Philadelphia, is usually considered to be entitled to the distinction of being the oldest newspaper now published in the United States. It is a continuation of the Pennsylvania Gazette, which was founded by Benjamin Franklin in 1729. In 1745 it was merged in another paper, and took the name of North American, under which title it is still issued. The ownership of the paper passed a few days ago from the McMichaels, who have owned the property for many years.

"What's the most marked feature of a newspaper office?" "Why—the proofs."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Storm Boots for a Dog.

A hairless Mexican dog, the property of a well-known actress, attracted a great deal of attention on Broadway one afternoon recently. He and his mistress were out for an airing. The dog wore the customary blanket, but that was not the unusual part of his make-up that caused the greatest notice. His feet were incased in storm boots. They were made of rubber, about two and one-half inches high, and had five buttons. These up-to-date storm shoes for dogs are made only in Paris. The shoes are made to order, and no stock is kept on hand, probably because no two dogs' feet are the same size.—New York Letter Pittsburgh Dispatch.

"Dorothy has given up all expectation of getting married."

"Has she quit crimping her hair?"

"No; but she doesn't save cooking recipes any more."—Chicago Record.

Awkward.

A Scotch minister was once catechizing his young parishioners before the congregation, when he put the usual first question to a girl whose father kept a public house.

"What is your name?" queried the minister.

But there was no reply.

The question was repeated, and then, to the amusement of the congregation, the girl answered:

"Nane-o' your fun, Mr. Minister. Ye ken my name weel enough. D'ye no say, when ye come to our house on a night, 'Bet, bring me some ale?'"

JACK HESS HERE

BEHIND JAIL BARS

TURNKEY BROWN IDENTIFIES THE PRISONER.

Although Not Enjoying the Best of Health, Hess Is Far From Being Dangerously Ill—Talks About His Travels Since His Escape—Jail Looks Familiar.

Jack Hess, who broke jail here during the night of July 31, 1897, is once more occupying quarters in the Rock county jail.

In charge of Turnkey Brown, Hess arrived in Janesville this morning from Portage and was at once taken in a hack to the bastille.

On entering the jail, a smile covered his face and he made the remark that things looked natural.

After being searched he was consigned to a cell on the south side and now has the freedom of the same corridor from which he made his escape via the chimney.

Since his escape Hess says that he has led a life that embraces enough romance to fill a good sized book. As to how he and Saunders planned and carried out their escape from the Rock county bastille, he prefers at present to say but little. After leaving Janesville on the night of July, 1897, Hess & Saunders soon separated each going their way.

Hess remained in the Badger state and adjoining territory for many months finally falling in with bad company. Several weeks ago he got mixed up in a free for all fight in Columbia county with a gang of tramps and the result was that one of the party was stabbed to death.

Hess was arrested and held as a witness, but nothing could be proven against him. A hobo who was in the jail there at the time knew Hess and on being given his freedom he wandered to Janesville and while here informed the officers where Hess was.

Present indications are that Hess will be tried here for burglarizing freight cars on the Milwaukee road near Beloit in 1897.

FRANK RANDALL DIES IN CHICAGO

BROTHER TO BRIGADIER GENERAL GEORGE RANDALL.

Resided in Janesville the Greater Portion of His Life—Brother to Charles Randall of This City—Funeral of the Late Otto E. Smith Held This Afternoon.

Frank Randall, for many years a resident of this city, died in Chicago at 5:15 this morning at the home of his sister, 4640 Langley avenue. Cause of his demise, was pneumonia, he having been sick for several days.

Charles Randall, a brother, and Charles D. Stevens, both of this city, were with him when the end came as was a sister, Mrs. Anna McKenna. By the death of Frank Randall, it removes a man well known to the majority of the citizens of Janesville. The greater part of his life was spent in this city and for many years he resided on the Randall homestead, corner of Ringgold street and Ruger avenue.

A few years ago Mr. Randall removed to Chicago and there entered the employ of the Pullman Palace Car company.

His position is one of responsibility, for it involved the wholesale buying for the dining cars running in and out of Chicago.

By his strict business like methods he soon won the esteem of his employers who respected him.

By his untimely death many in this city will mourn the loss of a true friend.

Two brothers, Brigadier General George Randall of the United States army, with headquarters at Washington, Charles Randall of Janesville, and one sister, Mrs. Anna McKenna of Chicago, are left to mourn the loss.

The remains will be brought here and interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

Otto E. Smith

All that was mortal of the late Otto E. Smith was tenderly laid to rest this afternoon in Oak Hill cemetery.

Services of a brief nature were held from the Academy street home at 2 o'clock, and from the Presbyterian church at 2:30, the Rev. E. H. Pence officiating. The sacred edifice was filled with sorrowing friends who were there to pay their last respects to a man whom they loved for his many ways and lovable character.

Members of the local I. O. O. F. and the Daughters of Rebekah, orders were in attendance, as were visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs from Whitewater and Milwaukee.

The floral offerings were many and embraced beautiful secret order designs presented by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

At the close of the services the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery, where the last sad rites were conducted by the local Odd Fellow order.

The pall bearers were Odd Fellows as follows: Benjamin Plowright, W. H. Grove, August Richter, J. C. Stanton, Willard Coleman and S. D. Hill.

John Carle

John Carle died this morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Park Hotel, after a two months' illness with stomach trouble. Mr. Carle for many years occupied a responsible position on the road and was a man who easily made friends by his kind disposition and witty ways. He leaves two brothers, W. F. Carle and L. B. Carle, and one sister, Mrs. H. F. Keller, of this city.

Card of Thanks

To the friends who so kindly assisted in our late bereavement we extend our heartfelt thanks; also to those who contributed flowers.

MILWAUKEE ROAD AFTER SAND PIT

AN ENTERPRISE WORTH LOCATING NEAR HERE.

Would Benefit Merchants to the Extent of Many Hundred Dollars Each Year—Officials Are to Locate New Pit to Take Place of the One at Rockton.

Officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad are soon to locate a sand pit, to take the place of the one at Rockton, Ill.

The locating of such would mean land that would embrace at least a forty acre tract.

The pit at Rockton has been worked out and the company being unable to purchase adjoining gravel land at a fair market value, are now seeking a new location.

In case the business men of Janesville could induce the Milwaukee road officials to locate such a pit near the city limits, it would mean much for the Bower City.

At Rockton the working of the sand pits has for the past few years given employment to a large force of men through a greater portion of the year. When the work was rushed to its height labor was furnished to a force of between three and five hundred. This large force does not include numerous trainmen required in handling the numerous gravel trains that were sent out in large numbers daily to all portions of western territory covered by the Milwaukee road.

At Rockton most of the laborers boarded in freight cars at the pits, but managed each evening to spend much money with the different merchants. During the past few days, the Milwaukee railroad company have had an option on farming lands near the present pit at Rockton, but according to late tests that have been made, this property is not desirable for the reason that it is too sandy and does not contain enough gravel.

If the Milwaukee road officials could be induced to locate their pit near this city, it would result in a benefit to the city as the present intention is to purchase a large enough tract of land so that it would fulfill all requirements for several years.

JOHNSTOWN NUPTIAL EVENT

August Krueger and Bessie Belle Peabody Joined in Marriage.

Wednesday, April 12, at noon, at the home of William Zuill in Johnstown, occurred the marriage of August Krueger of Johnstown and Miss Bessie Belle Peabody.

A large number of friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. S. G. Huey, after which all sat down to an elegant wedding banquet. The young couple were the recipients of numerous beautiful and valuable gifts.

The bride is the second daughter of Horace Peabody, the engineer at the Rock County asylum. For the last fifteen years she has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. John Zuill. She is a young lady of respectability and refinement and is highly esteemed by all who know her. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Krueger and is an industrious and well to do young man. They will go at once to their future home on the Roe farm in Johnstown, whither they will take with them the best wishes of many friends.

ENGAGE THE IMPERIAL BAND

The imperial band of twenty pieces has been engaged to play at the Wood men picnic to be held in Beloit on June 1.

CARTER SHOT WELL AT ELKWOOD MEET

LOCAL SPORTSMAN IS AFTER HIGH HONORS.

H. G. Carter of This City Yesterday Lost Only One Bird at the End of the Ninth Round—Completed Against Crack Shots of the United States.

Harry G. Carter, of this city, took part yesterday in the greatest pigeon shooting event in the history of the sport, the seventh Grand American Handicap, at twenty-five birds, at Elkwood Park, N. J.

Mr. Carter, competing with the best shots in America, held his own, losing only one bird in nine straight rounds.

Harry H. McKinney and Sheriff W. H. Appleby, who are with Mr. Carter, took no part in the program.

The number of Entries and actual competitors broke all records. In the promise of the contest other records are in danger, for at the end of the third round of the sets of traps there were sixty six straight scores, and as far as the gunners got into the fourth round that number was but little reduced.

The pigeon shooters themselves made a crowd, and the onlookers filled the club house and the Casino to their full capacity.

The post entries raised the total number of entries to 278. Fifteen of these forfeited and leaving a field of 263 shooters to compete for the big handicap. The total value of the sweepstakes, 25¢ advance entries at $25 each and twelve post entries at $35 each is $7,145, to be divided into sixty-three moneys, the places with money attached this season being more numerous than were the entries for either of the first two years of the fixture.

At the end of the first round of the set of three traps 101 men had missed one or more birds, leaving 168 straight scores. At the end of the second round the straight scores were reduced to 106. When the third round was finished there were sixty-six straight scores. The fourth round, to the twelve-bird, was a little more than half completed yesterday afternoon.

Tires We Tie To...

Many riders want to know the difference between the various grades of tires we sell.

Fastest of all

but more easily punctured, is the thread fabric tire. This means that it is made of two layers of threads, not interwoven like the threads in a handkerchief, but each thread separated from its neighbor by a thin layer of rubber. These are covered with a layer of rubber to protect them from wear. The tire we sell as Hartford No. 80 is such a tire.

This construction makes the most resilient tire known. Actual tests show that a wheel fitted with these tires uses about ten per cent. less power to propel at a given speed than if the threads in the fabric were interwoven.

Hartford Tire No. 77 is made from a closely woven fabric, sacrificing a certain amount of speed to durability and freedom from puncture. It is a tire made to stand rough usage. The rubber in the No. 80 and the No. 77 is identical. It is the best for its purpose that can be produced.

Hartford Tire No. 70 is also made from a closely woven fabric, but the rubber is not as good as that in the No. 77 and No. 80. It is durable and intended to meet the call for a good medium priced tire.

GLASSES....

That Do Not Fit the Eye Perfectly....

Are worse than no glass at all. There is more danger in wearing improperly fitted glasses than in allowing the defect in vision to go unattended.

THE FRAMES....

Are Essential.

They must fit perfectly. The center of the glass must strike the center of the eye ball. If the eye is astigmatized—that is, the outer surface of the eye ball is irregular in shape, lenses, of course, are ground to fit that defect. If the frame is improperly fitted, the glass is more harmful than without its use.

LOVE AND POISON.

LOVE TRAGEDY THAT CLOSED WITH SUICIDE.

Carrie Williams Shot Herself Because She Was in Deep Despair—Harry Evans, the Actor, Accused of Deserting Her.

As the Denver & Rio Grande train sped eastward Monday night, says a Leadville dispatch, it carried back to Missouri for burial in the family plot at Glasgow the remains of a beautiful and confiding young girl whose life had paid the forfeit of her confidence in one unworthy of it. Her death at St. Vincent's hospital Monday morning was the closing act on a tragedy, that has for three years been unfolding in the little camp of Dillon.

There the actors in this tragedy are well known and so intense has been the feeling in the community as the duplicity of the man suspected of the girl's downfall became evident, that nothing but his escape from the place at the time the denouement was near, prevented a double ending.

Carrie Williams, a young girl of charming features, refined, educated, and possessing some means, had for three years lived in Dillon with her sister, Mrs. J. A. Thompson, and her

Into this retreat had drifted Harry Evans, a brokendown actor known to the variety halls of Denver. Here the man of the world had found occupation as deputy postmaster. His profession had given him a plausibility that in Dillon passed for polish and a gift tongue that like gained currency for education and wisdom. He became a man of affairs in Dillon; the society of the place was open to him.

Of this man of the world, double her age, the innocent young girl became enamoured. After three years of constant association, her love is said by all to have amounted to infatuation, and in her infatuation she was insanely jealous. Did Evans look at another woman, Miss Williams was certain to upbraid him, and to spend hours in tears at his neglect.

Six months ago Miss Williams was called to the death bed of her mother at the old home in Missouri. There letters from Evans followed her daily. The attachment was believed to be mutual. The mother died and the young girl hastened back to Dillon. To her from her mother's estate came a small legacy—a few hundred dollars. It is here that the people of Dillon begin to charge duplicity against Evans. It is claimed that on a promise to marry her, Evans borrowed of the girl $500, representing nearly the whole of her inheritance, and her sister says the girl spent money in hiring buggies to drive out with Evans and in going to visit him while he was absent from Dillon, he having spent several weeks in Breckenridge during the early autumn months.

Others say that about this time Evans began to insinuate about the character of the girl and to repudiate all intentions of marrying her. It appears to have been his insinuations that most incensed the people of Dillon, their indignation at one time having taken such a phase that the object of them found it expedient to leave town.

For three years matters between the two had been approaching the climax. On Monday, Dec. 12, two ladies came from Breckenridge to Dillon. One of them, a married lady, had been much with Evans in Dillon society, and it seems had found that her meetings with him formed the basis for the jealousy of the Williams girl. On this evening, Evans called on the ladies from Breckenridge. On his way to visit them he stopped at a confectionery store kept by a Mrs. Lundstrom and left a note for Miss Williams saying that he could not meet her until after 10 o'clock. His madly jealous victim received this message as he had no doubt intended she would. It increased her jealousy even more than the heartless wretch could have hoped. Mrs. Thomson says that her sister told her next morning that on receiving the note she went to the rear door of the postoffice and there awaited until midnight the return of her lover, knowing that he slept there and would eventually return. At midnight he came, and from that hour until 4 in the morning the girl upbraided the man for his inconstancy. The scene must have been a stormy one, since from it dates the real climax of the affair.

Soon after breakfast on Tuesday morning, after telling her sister of the dispute, Miss Williams went down to the postoffice. From the delivery window Evans handed her a letter from himself, saying not a word. His greeting had been that of a stranger toward her. With this letter the heartbroken girl hastened to the little store of her confidant, Mrs. Lundstrom, and there read her dismissal. In cold, unfeeling words, the wretch who had taken her good name in the community, told the confiding girl that he would have nothing more to do with her, that he could not have anything to do with a jealous woman. This from the man who had made her jealous, had probably given her cause for jealousy, was more than the heartbroken girl could stand. In a rear room of the little store she wept for hours. At the end of her weeping, telling her friend she was going to kill herself, she went out. The friend pooh-poohed the notion, telling her that in such cases it was far more sensible to give the man, in the case a good scare.

From the store of Mrs. Lundstrom the girl went to the depot and there, while the operator, Harry Moyer, was busy sending a telegram, she extracted from a drawer of the desk his revolver—a hammerless one.

With this, at 5 o'clock that evening, Miss Williams went to the postoffice. It was deserted of all but two boys and Evans. Walking to the delivery window, the girl accused her betrayer of his inconstancy, ending with the words:

"Harry, I am going to kill myself."

He was busy at some papers, and without turning around, cried back to her:

"All right—go ahead."

Without another word, placing the revolver to her breast, the girl fired.

At the report, Evans came from behind to find her lying on the floor evidently in the throes of death. The alarm spread throughout the town. The first who came, knowing the situation, thought Evans had done the shooting. They were loath to believe otherwise. The girl lingered. She was removed to the home of her sister. She was induced to make a statement, exonerating Evans of all blame and denying the report that he had borrowed money of her. This was when it was thought she would recover and Evans had promised he would marry her as soon as she was able.

After nearly two weeks of pain the girl complained that the treatment was not benefiting her. She asked to be taken to Denver. Her brother-in-law and sister had done all they could; Dr. Condon had been in almost constant attendance; a trained nurse from Denver had been called in. When the time to move her came her condition grew worse. They feared she would succumb before the change would be made. That morning Evans, who until then had been with her almost constantly, displaying a solicitude the people give him small credit for, left suddenly.

He went to a livery stable and hired a cutter, telling the liveryman that Mrs. Thompson had suggested that the bells be left off for fear they would make too much noise as he passed by the house. This is denied by Mrs. Thomson. Before day-break Evans left the town, not knowing but that the girl who was dying for his love would pass from life before his team would put him beyond the reach of recall.

The girl rallied and was brought to Leadville en route to Denver. Here on Monday she was taken to St. Vincent's hospital, and there later in the day the slender thread of life was broken.

This is the story as it is known in Dillon, and knowing or believing so, it is that the people of that place have threatened to invoke the Mosaic law

HARRY EVANS, against the man whom they deem guilty of having sent Carrie Williams to an untimely grave.

The Wasp's Mistake.

Once in a while one has reason to suspect that animal instinct is not always infallible. It was surely at fault in the case of the wasp whose action is thus described by the Scientific American: A friend placed three empty vials in an open box, on a shelf, in an upright position and in close contact. They were uncorked. A short time afterward he was very much surprised to find that they had been appropriated by a female mud-wasp. She had placed a goodly number of spiders in the center vial, doubtless intended to serve as food for her future brood; then she proceeded to deposit her eggs in the vials on either side. She next closed tightly the mouths of all three receptacles with a hard lime cement. Having finished her work, she doubtless went on her way, satisfied that all had been done for her offspring that a thoughtful mother could do. But just think of the sensations of those little wasps after they have come into existence, while, starving in their sealed cages, they can plainly see, through the impenetrable glass walls, the bountiful supply of food which was provided for their use!

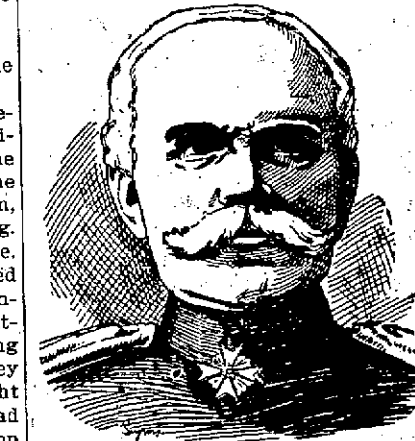

GEN. VON CAPRIVI.

LIKE BISMARCK, HE WAS A MAN OF BLOOD AND IRON.

Came of One of the Greatest Families of Prussia—Was Considered a Worthy Successor of the Iron Chancellor—An Active Life.

Gen. Count George Leo von Caprivi, formerly chancellor for the German empire, who died recently, was one of the most versatile and at the same time one of the most influential Germans of the century. As a soldier in his early days he ranked next to Von Moltke as the foremost warrior in Europe. Transferred between two days to the navy, and made admiral and chief of the naval department of the government, he quickly showed himself master of that branch of the service, and he reorganized the German navy, laying the foundations for its present strength. Transferred once more, this time from a military to a civil field, Count von Caprivi showed himself capable of mastering the intricate details of the German foreign policy, and became a not unworthy successor to Bismarck.

Caprivi was born in 1831, and according to the heralds he rejoiced in the full name of George Leo von Caprivi.

privi de Caprava de Montecuculi, though he repudiated these latter patronymics. The authentic history of his family extends back to 1224. His father was a jurist high in Prussian service. As a young man Caprivi entered the army and quickly made a reputation. "There is only one Caprivi," the saying used to go, in comment upon his ability. Attracting the attention of Von Moltke he was made in 1870 chief of staff of the Tenth army corps, and the siege and capture of Metz was planned by him even in its minutest details.

From the army Von Caprivi passed at a bound to the navy in 1884, being made vice admiral and chief of the admiralty, a position corresponding to our secretary of the navy. The emperor made the appointment, because he knew Caprivi's ability as a disciplinarian, and because he trusted his power of adapting himself to new lines of action. His work in creating a new navy accomplished, Caprivi resigned and was rewarded by being made commander of the Tenth or Hanoverian army corps, the finest in the whole army.

From this position he was called by the young German emperor to the chancellorship March 20, 1890, when the resignation of Bismarck was handed in. Again his ability was proved. He mastered the intricate details of the commercial relations with Italy and Austria, and it was to him more, perhaps, than to any other that the commercial treaties with those two countries in December, 1891, were concluded. For his services here the emperor made him a count. In 1892 and 1893 he conducted the German army bills successfully through the reichstag. He resigned in October, 1894, and had since lived in retirement.

Like Bismarck, Caprivi was a man of blood and iron, tempered by the polished suavity of the diplomat. He was never married, and was quiet in his habits.

Kingdom of God.
"The kingdom of God is within you," saith the Lord. Turn yourself with all your heart to the Lord, and unfix your affections from this sinful world, and you shall find rest for your soul. Learn to think little of external things and to give your thoughts to things internal, and you will find that the kingdom of God will enter into you. For the kingdom of God is righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost, and this is not given to the unholy. Christ will come to you, giving you his own consolation, if you prepare Him a worthy mansion within. All His glory and honor are from within, and there it pleaseth Him to dwell. He who frequently entertains Christ will have sweet discourse with Him, comfort and consolation, much peace, a friendship too wonderful for the heart of man to have conceived.—Thomas a Kempis.

How Andersonville Looks.
A recent visitor to Andersonville, where the Union soldiers were imprisoned thirty-five years ago, says that the earthworks and stockade are still preserved, and that the wells dug by the prisoners are in as good condition as if they had just been completed. "Providence spring," so named because it seemed to have suddenly burst from the ground just at the time when the soldiers were suffering for water, is still the same, having kept up a constant flow of pure, clear water ever since.

Turquoise in Favor.
Turquoises are growing more and more into favor—quite a small stone of good color costing about seven pounds. They are tiresome stones to wear on account of their so often losing their color and turning green. Turquoise rings must always be removed before washing the hands, as water completely ruins them; and any grease touching them is even more disastrous, so people with moist skin seldom manage to keep the color of the stone.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Brightest Reward.
We are to be rewarded, not only for work done, but for burdens borne, and I am not sure but that the brightest rewards will be for those who have borne burdens without murmuring. On that day he will take the lily, that has been growing so long among the thorns, and lift it up to glory and wonder of all the universe; and the fragrance of that lily will draw forth ineffable praises from all the hosts of heaven.—Andrew Bonar.

Not in Any Danger.
